

Red Boss Rattles Rockets In Speech

Warns U.S. Buildup In Germany May Cause War, Nuclear Attack

BERLIN (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, warned the United States and its allies that the military buildup in West Germany could lead to war and hydrogen rocket attacks on their cities.

The Russian party boss accused the Western Powers of scheming to use Germany as a war base "and the German people as cannon fodder in their plans to conquer the world."

West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who tangles with the Socialists in national elections Sept. 16, was blamed by Khrushchev for supporting "these preparations for a new war."

Khrushchev made his rocket-rattling speech before Communist East Germany's Parliament on the second day of his week-long visit to the satellite nation.

Before whirling TV cameras and radio microphones that carried his threatening words all over Germany, the Russian leader declared:

Gives Warning
"The policy of militarization, as followed by the ruling quarters of West Germany and by her western partners in the preparation of an atomic war, creates an extremely dangerous situation for peoples of Europe and the German people in particular."
"This should be kept in mind by the statesmen of England, France and other countries which are within range of atomic and hydrogen weapons in case of military operations."

"This should also be kept in mind by the statesmen of the United States as in our time, where rocket developments are rapid, no distance will protect any country from the effects of atomic and hydrogen weapons."

Threat Not New
Threatening of atomic destruction by missiles is not new with Russian leaders. More than a year ago, during the visit of Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin to London, the Communist party chief claimed Russia would soon have intercontinental missiles "which can hit every point in the world."

Issue Hurricane Warning: Cameron Again In Path
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Bertha continued a steady building of force Thursday night and the Weather Bureau predicted it "will probably reach hurricane force late tonight or early Friday."

The Weather Bureau ordered a hurricane watch along the west Louisiana and upper Texas coast during the night.

Sheriff O. B. Carter ordered evacuation of battered Cameron Parish (County) Thursday night as a precaution against the storm.

The area, where 500 persons died in Hurricane Audrey six weeks ago Thursday, began setting up evacuation centers away from the coastal lowlands that bore the brunt of Audrey's 20-foot waves and 105 m.p.h. winds.

Laymen Ask Pope End Race Integration In Catholic Churches

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Assn. of Catholic Laymen — bypassing its archbishop Thursday asked Pope Pius XII in Rome to stop racial integration in the church.

In a letter that challenged the right of Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel to define a matter of morals, the group of New Orleans Catholics asked:

1. That Archbishop Rummel be requested "to take no further steps" toward integration of white and Negro Catholics pending a papal pronouncement, and,
2. That the papacy decree that segregation is not morally wrong and sinful as the archbishop has said it is.

The letter also listed types of segregation in regions of the nation and the world outside the South.

Archbishop Rummel issued a statement Thursday night saying the action was "in accord with the recognized right or prerogative of members of the Catholic church in general. We prefer, as an interested party and out of deference to the Holy See, not to comment on the manner in which the appeal is couched or on the accuracy of its contents."

The association outlined its feelings on the matter.

"For over two years now," the letter to Pope Pius said, "conscientious and sincere Catholics in the archdiocese of New Orleans have been confronted with the strange new doctrine, propounded by our archbishop, his excellency, Joseph Francis Rummel, that the segregation of the white and Negro races is 'morally wrong and sinful.'"

"Indeed, this concept is both new and strange, for even the clergy and the church itself have participated and are participating in the perpetuation of this type of segregation by, among other things, sanctioning the establishment and maintenance of separate churches and schools."

"Despite the fact that no competent attempt has been made to offer a conclusive proof to establish the validity of the principle, nor to demonstrate a bishop's authority to define a matter of morals, Catholics have been admonished that they are bound in conscience under pain of possible serious sin to accept it."

As a result, the letter said, educated Catholics have become demoralized and uneducated ones scandalized.

"For the good of souls," said the letter, "something must be done and done swiftly."

The letter said some clergy had advised the laymen that the Pope would not consider the question worthy of direct attention, but "we can not be convinced that this is so."

Jackson G. Ricau, association executive secretary, said the letter closed with an assurance that the association would accept as final any papal decree.

Emile Wagner Jr., association president and a New Orleans lawyer, said the association was formed in the spring of 1956 and estimated its membership at 2,000 to 3,000.

Pilot Saves 67—Lands Crippled Plane Safely

A-BOMB VETS—Air Force Maj. Robert Lewis, left, reminisces with Rev. Hubert Schiffer, S.J., as the two men meet at Fordham University on the 12th anniversary of the dropping of the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima. Lewis was pilot of the Enola Gay, the plane that dropped the first bomb, while Father Schiffer was only "right blocker" from ground zero when the bomb went off. The latter, after a long period of convalescence, is now taking time out from his work in Japan to study for a doctorate in economics at Fordham University.

HONOLULU (AP)—A confident veteran pilot brought his military transport plane and 67 persons to a smooth landing in Hawaii Thursday, happily ending a tense, 6 1/2-hour flight across 1,000 miles of sea with two dead engines.

The big four-engine C97's routine overnight flight from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., northeast of San Francisco, for Hickam Field, Honolulu, suddenly became a stark battle against time and adversity when the No. 1 engine on the left side failed at 4:56 a.m.

The pilot, Maj. Samuel Tyson, 37, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, reported by radio he was just past the point of no return, halfway on the 2,250-mile flight, so there was no turning back.

At 5:28 a.m., the propeller of the No. 1 engine broke off and slashed into the No. 2 engine, smashing two blades of No. 2's four-bladed prop.

Now two engines were dead, both on the same side.

Tyson radioed he believed he had enough gasoline to reach Hilo, on Hawaii Island, 200 miles nearer than Hickam. Baggage was tossed out to lighten the struggling plane. The plane already was 200 miles past the Coast Guard's midocean weather ship, but Tyson did not plan to ditch.

Altitude was cut to less than 100 feet, in hope of getting an updraft from the Pacific Ocean, which washed in 8-foot swells just below.

Picks Up Tailwind
At that level Tyson picked up a tailwind estimated at 15 to 25 miles an hour. The two laboring engines pulled the huge Stratocruiser-type Boeing ahead at half speed, about 160 miles an hour.

Tyson, confident from the start, first estimated he could reach Hilo in five hours and that he had fuel for five hours and four minutes.

Martin Advocates Special Civil Rights Session Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the House, Thursday advocated a special session of Congress if necessary to get a satisfactory civil rights bill.

He spoke at the Senate's historic civil rights measure lay on the speaker's table in the House and party leaders weighed their next moves.

Martin told reporters that if the bill in its final form fails to meet President Eisenhower's specifications he will personally recommend that Eisenhower veto it and recall Congress in November to try again.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's GOP leader, said it was too early to say whether a special civil rights session might be called. Congress may adjourn its present session by the end of this month.

Two main courses were open to the House in handling the bill which the Senate approved 72-18 Wednesday night after nearly five weeks of debate.

The House could accept the Senate's amended version and risk a presidential veto. Eisenhower is opposed to the jury trial provision inserted by the Senate, considering it "most damaging to the entire federal judiciary."

Or the House could send the bill to a Senate-House Conference Committee for attempted adjustment of the differences between it and a much broader measure passed by the House June 18.

As it now stands, the amendment would require jury trials in nearly all kinds of criminal contempt proceedings arising from efforts to enforce federal court injunctions. These proceedings, under present law, are generally handled by judges alone.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas, leader of the Democratic majority, said he would have a statement Friday on what he thinks should be done with the legislation. The House may act after that.

BRITISH-LED ARMY ADVANCES ON FORT AT NIZWA

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—A British-led army of 1,000 tribesmen supporting the Sultan of Muscat and Oman Thursday thrust the second jaw of a pincer attack at the rebel Imam of Oman's stronghold.

The new force advanced up a dry canyon called Wadi Samal under British air cover and with heavy weapons support, officials said. The unit approached the rebel-held fort at Nizwa from the northeast. The Wadi stretches 40 to 60 miles from the desert frontier.

Preparing for a knockout punch from the southeast, an army of British troops and Arab warriors was believed to have captured Firg, three miles from the fort.

Hopes were high that Imam Ghaleb bin Ali's forces would be defeated in four or five days. The British Foreign Office is known to want a quick victory in the three-week-old rebellion. A prolonged campaign could hurt British prestige in the oil-rich protectorates on the Persian Gulf.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A suspected professional chess forger died in a hail of police riot slugs Thursday on the 12th floor of the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel after wounding two policemen and a girl bystander in the lobby.

Thirty policemen stormed the room of the two-gun man, identified as Paul Everett Sparks, 30, after he had shot down Detective Sgt. Jim Partain, 32, and a traffic officer, Raymond Cooper, 36.

The man had registered as Nolan Carter, 30, Portland, Ore. A man who registered at the same time as Sparks later told police the dead man's real name is Paul Everett Sparks, 30, from "somewhere in Oregon." The companion, registered as Leonard Hall of Portland, said he actually is Travis Gatewood, 34, Norfolk, Va.

Miss Connie Calkins, 19, Crawfordsville, Ind., was wounded in the right leg when she walked into the opening blaze of gunfire in the hotel lobby, just off one of Indianapolis' busiest downtown corners.

Accused Spy, Abel, Seems Abandoned By Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet government Thursday appeared for the first time to have abandoned Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel to his fate. He was indicted Wednesday as a key Russian spy in this country.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins, in charge of the government's case against the 55-year-old Abel, said he has not been contacted by the Russian Embassy since the indictment.

Nor, Tompkins added, has any lawyer come forward to represent Abel, who was arrested for nine years in Brooklyn as a plodding artist.

By contrast, in 1949, the Soviet Embassy came forward within a matter of hours on behalf of Valentine A. Gubitchev, another Russian national arrested on spy charges.

Gubitchev and government girl Judy Coplon were convicted of spying. Miss Coplon's conviction eventually was reversed and she went free. Gubitchev was allowed to return to Russia.

Abel was being flown back to New York from Edinburgh, Tex., where he was arraigned Wednesday on espionage charges that carry the death penalty upon conviction.

At the time of his indictment, the Russian intelligence officer was being held in a detention camp at McAllen, Tex., to await deportation as an illegal alien. He had come to the U.S. illegally in 1943 by way of Canada.

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—State police seized Dewey Gene Mills, 23, of Centuria, as he hid in a haystack Thursday near an abandoned car stolen earlier from a Mount Vernon minister.

Mills was held without charge in Effingham County Jail.

The arrest followed a chase by officers and use of a state police airplane to locate the driver. Authorities said the thief drove the stolen auto through a roadblock set up after an Alma filling station attendant reported a man failed to pay for gas.

Police said Mills ran a state police roadblock on U.S. 45 after a filling station attendant notified authorities the man failed to pay for gasoline at Alma. The 1957 auto, stolen from the Rev. E. W. Wilson of Mount Vernon, was found beside a cornfield near Lillyfield.

Gangster Won't Talk; Recording Becomes Evidence In Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probes, unable to get gangster Johnny Dio to talk, played into evidence Thursday a wiretapped recording which represented Dio as saying: "I was out with Jimmy last night, Jimmy Hoffa."

Dio had just refused to say whether he had ever worked for or even knew Hoffa, who is now the Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union and may be the union's next international president.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the recording was made Feb. 8, 1955, by police in New York without any of those in the conversation knowing that anyone was listening in.

As Dio listened to it Thursday, he was sour-faced and sweating. Asked whether that was his voice in the recording, Dio refused to answer. He invoked the Fifth Amendment and its protection against self-incrimination.

The recording was made at a time when, the committee said, Dio had set hoodlums to work to oust Martin Lacey as president of the Teamsters Joint Council of New York City, and to replace Lacey with John O'Rourke, a man favored by Hoffa.

The committee has said that Hoffa sought O'Rourke's election in order to bulwark himself as a (Continued on Page 11)

Editorial Comment

The Case Of The Iron Horse

For many decades the railroads were the unchallenged masters of the American transportation network. Then along came the trucks to take away freight traffic and planes to slice into passenger revenues.

Today a good share of the nation's Class I lines—those with three million dollars or more in annual volume—are in trouble. Their costs are up, their proportion of U.S. freight traffic has fallen farther, and their earnings in some cases have been trimmed this year a substantial 50 per cent.

In a special report, the magazine Business Week has taken a long, hard look at the railroads and come up with some definite conclusions about their economic position.

Fundamentally their problem now is that they have too much physical plant and too many workers for the kind of business they are doing.

This establishment was created, of course, at a time when the rails had the lion's share of the transportation business.

Now they have less than half the intercity freight traffic. Trucks and the ships and barges which ply our waterways carry the major proportion.

But despite the percentage decline in their freight business, the rails ac-ually are carrying more intercity cargo than they did 10 years ago. Their volume in 1956 was 647 billion ton miles, against 592 billion ton miles in 1946.

The southern and western lines are in considerably better status than the eastern group. The latter depend most heavily on short haul business requiring heavy investment in cars, classification yards for making up trains, and so on. The lines in other sections have more of the profitable long-train, long-haul business.

But the general outlook will not brighten, according to Business Week, unless the railroads can modernize to reduce their costs, develop faster and more flexible service and make fuller use of their facilities.

There are some indications that in the future the truckers' costs may rise faster than the railroads' and this could mean an economic swing favorable to the latter.

But whether their prospects do thus improve or not, clearly the railroads will be kept in being even if it takes government ownership to do it. Their basic ability to haul freight farther and faster with less fuel and less human control than their competitors require is an asset the country cannot afford to let waste away.

Wisconsin's Primary

The triumph of former Gov. Walter Kohler in the Republican senatorial primary in Wisconsin is of somewhat more than ordinary interest. He is an avowed Eisenhower man in a state which, in politics below the presidential level, has showed strong conservative leanings.

The contest is for the seat of the late Joseph R. McCarthy, who died this spring. McCarthy won election twice in Wisconsin, gaining powerful backing from wealthy industrialists.

Those same elements last year supported former Rep. Glenn Davis in a bid to unseat Sen. Alexander Wiley, but failed. Davis this time was the chief adversary of Kohler, and again enjoyed much conservative support.

Kohler's victory, while relatively narrow, was thus rather notable. Not only did he have to buck Davis, but he faced a wide field of opponents who served to divide the total GOP vote considerably.

Nevertheless, the outcome is obviously not a clear proof that even in conservative Wisconsin President Eisenhower's moderate Republicanism rings a bell. For Kohler as a former governor is popular in his own right, and it is hard to separate the two factors.

World Atomic Energy Group Would Let Us Sleep Better

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—(NEA)—The other day the President signed a formal document called "an instrument of ratification" and thereby created the International

Atomic Energy Agency.

Twenty other countries, including Russia, had already officially signed. The President's pen stroke was all that was needed to put this new agency in business.

Most of the publicity on this international agency has stressed the contribution it would make to speeding up the world use of atomic fuel for the production of electric power. This is one of its prime goals.

But the less publicized goal of the agency is the one which could let the world sleep better in the future. That will be its efforts to insure that no nuclear by-products of power and experimental reactors go into bombs.

The possibility of the development of so-called "clandestine bombs"—atomic weapons made in secrecy for nefarious purposes —has been scaring diplomats and statesmen more and more during recent years. The possession of such atomic weapons by unscrupulous, irresponsible dictators, for example, would really mess up international relations.

UNFORTUNATELY, AS THE

atomic energy science advances, and more reactors begin operating, the danger of clandestine bombs being built also grows.

The members of the new international atomic agency recognize this danger and the newly born organization will now begin its global nuclear sleuthing.

The real need for the agency to do this job won't become critical immediately, however. The U. S. will be supplying most of the fissionable materials to other countries for the next few years.

And the rigid safeguards which prevent the building of any clandestine bombs in the meantime.

These safeguards are identical to those which the international agency will enforce when it begins distributing materials. So it will have the advantage of American experience in this effort for the bigger, longer job ahead.

The agreement which a country must sign to get U. S. fissionable materials states that such material "will not be used for atomic weapons, or for research on development of atomic

The receiving country must keep elaborate records of the storage, handling and use of these materials and send these records to the U. S. regularly.

DETAILS of the reactor in which nuclear fuel will be used must be furnished to provide an estimate of the quality and quantity of fissionable by-products it will produce.

The receiving country also agrees to give the U. S. first chance to purchase such by-products and to let the U. S. represent any spent materials.

Finally, the U. S. gets the right to send experts into a country to check reports on the use of fissionable materials first-hand, if necessary. In this way there is little chance for American-produced nuclear materials to be diverted to clandestine bombs,

U. S. officials believe.

These guarantees, which are demanding as a condition for getting atomic energy assistance to "receiving countries," But only India has flatly refused to accept these conditions.

CANADA AND BRITAIN, the two other countries in a position to sell fissionable materials, have said they would insist on the same guarantees.

Russia, however, says it plans to give atomic energy assistance

"with no strings attached." It does not reconcile this statement with its membership in IAEA.

There is one big difference between the guarantees which will be enforced by the international agency and those included in U. S.

agreements. The IAEA does not consider the use of nuclear fuel for the propulsion of submarines, airplanes or missiles as strictly military uses.

It was felt that to try to write in a ban on these uses would raise more problems than it would solve. It was further felt that the menace from these uses is not much greater than that arising from the use of conventional fuels.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst
For all the news his trip to Berlin has produced, Nikita Khrushchev might as well have read his vassals a bunch of old clippings. His constant threats of guided missile war are beginning to sound like a man who is short of ideas.

He began it more than a year ago in England. He has used it for all sorts of purposes—to make people think he favors disarmament, to frighten small nations that harbor Allied military bases.

Drink Again Ends Freedom Of Man Jailed 47 Years

CHICAGO (P) — It was drink that led to 47 years in prison for Herbert Spring, and now, after 3½ years freedom, the same weakness is causing his return to a cell.

In 1907, Spring, at the age of 20, went on a prolonged drinking spree, staggered out of a Freeport, Ill., saloon and fired a gun wildly in the street. A bullet struck and killed a woman. He entered Stateville Prison, Joliet, that same year, sentenced to life imprisonment.

The "lifer" developed great skill as a gardener in the prison yards. In 1954, he was paroled through the intercession of a Fairbanks, Alaska, contractor who had read about his work.

Spring went to Fairbanks, but started hitting the bottle again. A United States marshal recently reported Spring apparently is unable to control the drinking habit.

So today, Spring, now 70, is en route back to Stateville. He'll be retained there until the state parole board decides what is to be done with him.

SAYS 'SIN TAXES' MAKE BUDGET WORK IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

HANCOCK, N. H. (P) — A state senator said today the success of a new record state budget depends on the amount of revenue New Hampshire gets from "sin taxes" on liquor, tobacco and gambling.

Sen. Robert English (R-Hancock) said a newly enacted 38 million dollar state budget "will work out all right if you, your friends, and our summer and winter visitors keep right on having a 'nip' before dinner, smoke plenty of cigarettes and drop in on race meetings at Salem."

Revenue from these three sources bring in more than 12 million dollars a year, more than half the state's general fund revenue.

and now in an attempt to frighten West Germans into overthrowing the Adenauer government. While he goes on at this rate, he knows that Russia must avoid atomic war, at least for some time to come, because of the free world's advanced technology. There is every reason to believe that the West has nuclear weapon stockpiles that the Russians cannot touch either in quantity or quality.

Khrushchev may resort to threats as a sort of substitute for whistling through a graveyard. His recent visit to Finland, and now this one to Berlin, have been conducted in an entirely different atmosphere from the one he and Bulgarmir encountered in their travels before the Hungarian horror.

In Finland he was treated politely by officials who were afraid to do otherwise. But the people succeeded in almost completely ignoring him.

Khrushchev knows that when he is in East Germany he is in hostile territory. It's not like Czechoslovakia, where a certain sense of Slav brotherhood has always made the Russian task easier than in some of the other satellites. In East Germany there is as much hatred of the Russians who invaded them such a few years ago as there is in Russia against the Germans.

That's why Khrushchev gives the Stalinist leadership in East Germany a pat on the back while trying to exterminate it elsewhere. He knows that only Stalinism can keep the door shut on East German revolt, even as in Hungary.

Khrushchev may frighten some Germans with his charge that the Western Powers merely plan to use them as cannon fodder. Most of them have a clearer picture of how the Russians make cannon fodder of the workers.

Expect H,897,000 Bale Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON (P) — The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's government-controlled cotton crop at 11,897,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This estimate is the first of the year and compares with 13,310,000 harvested last year and 13,669,000 for the 10-year (1947-55) average.

The crop was grown under rigid marketing quotas and planting allotments and also under the soil bank program offering payments to farmers for under-planting allotments. These programs are designed to help reduce surpluses.

There was market speculation that the crop estimate would help form the basis for a boost in the government price support rate under the flexible price support system.

5 From Area Enlist Under 'Buddy' Plan

Five young men from this area have enlisted into the Air Force, it was announced Thursday by Staff Sergeant Shenaut, Air Force recruiter in Jacksonville.

The two from Manchester are Paul G. Brant, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Brant and Ray N. Stone, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael B. Stone.

Lt. W. A. Staff Crew Member Of Huge Carrier

On Saturday, Aug. 10, the U.S.S. Rhiviger (CVA-61), the world's largest carrier, will be commissioned at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, Va.

Word has been received from Cmdr. George Horton, local representative, Commandant, Ninth Naval District, and Professor of Physics at Illinois College, that Lt. William A. Staff, USN, formerly of Jacksonville, is one of the officers assigned to the ship as part of ship's company, a term which distinguishes these officers from others who may fly on and off the ship as members of various air operations groups. Lt. Staff has been assigned to the Combat Information Center of the ship.

Lt. Staff is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Staff, formerly of Jacksonville. He attended the Jacksonville High School and was graduated from Illinois College with the class of 1948 and was a member of Phi Alpha literary society. He is married to the former Betty June Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Davis, 130 Prospect, Jacksonville.

Lt. Staff served in World War II as Aviation Cadet and returned to active duty after graduation from college. He completed a long tour of duty with NROTC at the University of Illinois.

Lt. Staff's present address is 400 Rhode Island avenue, Norfolk 8, Va.

Road District 6 Problems To Be Talked Aug. 12

A public meeting of citizens of Road District 6, west of the city, has been called for 8 o'clock next Monday night, Aug. 12, at Wesley Chapel (Point) church to discuss the district's mounting road and financial problems.

James Leake is road district commissioner and Roscoe Mawson is clerk.

Members of the Morgan county board of commissioners will attend the public meeting, and join in the discussion. Road District 6 funds are insufficient to maintain highways, which are used by school buses, mail carriers and the general public, officials said in calling the meeting. The district is unable to do any more oiling this year unless some other financial arrangements can be worked out. The district includes territory immediately west of the city.

Indictment In New Berlin Case Quashed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Circuit Judge DeWitt S. Crow has dismissed on grounds of a technical error an indictment which charged Winfred Jacob Rodell of Athens with burning a theater building he owned in New Berlin last Nov. 17.

State's Attorney J. Waldo Ackerman, Jr., said his staff is studying the decision to determine if the ruling will be appealed, or the matter presented again to a new grand jury session for action.

Fire which followed an explosion in the unused theater building spread to an adjoining grocery store, gutting both buildings and threatening for a while to engulf the entire New Berlin business district.

Last April, Rodell was indicted on a charge of burning a building.

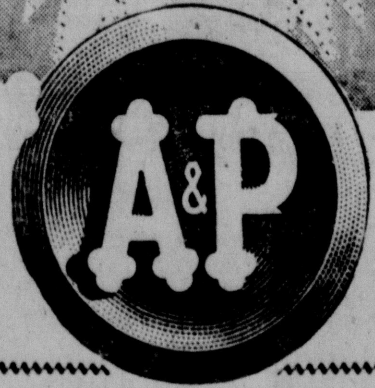

Rodell asked to have the indictment quashed, charging the indictment was vague and ambiguous, and charging that the names of only two of the four witnesses who testified about the cases before the grand jury were listed on the face of the indictment. The law requires names of all witnesses whose testimony leads to an indictment to be listed on the true bill.

LILLIAN looked at me and shook her head. "I don't have to ask about you, Pike. I can see. And it doesn't matter who did it. Just why."

"New Hawk," I said. "But, me'am, some day I'll get back at him."

"Of course you will," she said. "Or the marshal will."

Blanchard said, "Mrs. Jethroe, what happened to Pike was bad. Maybe you can blame me for part of it, all right. But think of what he did. He got to Pete Dorsey and got him away, almost. Now we know for sure he's alive, or was, last night."

"Pike, you did that?"

"I nodded, feeling prouder than I had any right to."

Blanchard said, "I know Dan was here last night. Did he say anything that might help us?"

Lillian sighed. "How far must I go, Mr. Blanchard?"

"As far as necessary."

"But, marshal, you see what happened to Pike. Surely—"

"I don't hear Pike complaining."

"Pike wouldn't. It's not manly to complain, is it, marshal? Then think of what happened in town last night. A killing in the street. Can you understand, Mr. Blanchard, what that represents in this town?"

"All right," Blanchard said. "Tell me one thing. Do you want Pete Dorsey to die?"

"Of course not."

"There are two people here who can help me. Pike. And you. There may be a few more who would help but I don't have time to find them. If Pike hadn't helped, Dorsey might be dead now. I might be dead, too. Pike gave me time and a reason to wait. Except for Pike, I might have had to do something wild that would have spoiled it all."

Dorsey will come walking into town, free, because of my reputation.

"Perhaps," Lillian said. "Sure, I think the reputation is important. I killed a man last night because of it."

"You killed . . ."

"Si Hanna didn't have to die. He was only feeling his oats. I could have talked him out of it. I've done it before, with men worse than Hanna. A man is a fool not to back down from killing if he can."

"Then why . . ."

"Because this town wouldn't let me back down. I had to prove what I do, right here, to protect myself and you and Pike and Dorsey!"

Blanchard looked like a tired man. Then, soft, he said, "If the town had been on my side before last night, Hanna could have lived. I hate killing. I swear it."

LILLIAN turned, slow, and looked into the bedroom.

Lillian said, "Dan was here last night. He talked about Cole. Cole would come to see me. Cole doesn't want them to kill Dorsey, not right away. Dan didn't say that, exactly. But I think it's what he meant. Cole wants them to wait until the buffalo come. I don't know why."

Blanchard turned and nodded. Soft, he said, "Anything else, Lillian?"

"No. If he comes again, I'll let you know."

Blanchard said, "Much obliged. Now I've got to prove what I say."

Blanchard opened the door. I got up and went to it. Blanchard looked at Lillian. He said, "I swear, Lillian, if you or Dick get hurt in any way . . . well, they'll face me some day for it. I hope you can get a measure of peace from that."

Blanchard let the door swing shut, clapped on his hat and stepped down off the porch. There was a man walking in the street. He turned onto the path up to Lillian's house and I saw his city clothes and the yellow hair under his hat.

I knew right away it was Cole Jethroe.

New 70 Foot Poles Erected On S. Main

South Main street is taking on a new look these days. All along the street from Anna street to Superior avenue, new 70 foot poles are being erected by the Illinois Power Co. These will replace the present line which is in need of repair. C. E. Senn, area manager, said Thursday.

The poles are from 70 to 80 feet in length with from nine to ten feet in the ground. The new lines will run from Anna street to Superior avenue along South Main street, then to the end of Superior. Three new lines will run on the poles; one with 34.5 K.V. (34,000 volts) of electricity. The lines are designed to assure continuity of service for patrons in the south end portion of the city as well as provide additional electrical power for the Korrite plant which is scheduled to expand its facilities in early spring. The Korrite division of Tectron Inc. is Jacksonville's newest industry.

"The erection of the new lines is part of a project which will take over a number of years," Senn explained. "The lines are tall to keep above normal tree growth; 95% of the interruptions to service are caused from tree limbs breaking down lines."

The planning for the project started in February with the act-

Save Brave Tot From Dry Well

ARCATA, Calif. (AP)—A little boy who didn't panic although imprisoned 15 feet down in the darkness of a dry well clutched a looped rope and was pulled out safely Wednesday on the fourth try.

Three other times, just as firemen got 3½ year old Michael Swenson near the surface, he lost his grip and fell back, pulling sand down on him.

His anxious mother, Mrs. Dale Swenson, gasped: "I was more frightened than Mike was."

Mike fell first into the hole on the farm of T. F. Aultman, who had drilled the well in sandy soil Wednesday and covered it. Children removed the cover.

Mike's cries attracted his mother. He was pulled out 30 minutes later.

The newlyweds visited St. Louis and also at the Scott county home of the groom's grandmother on Sunday, Aug. 4th. A sister of the groom, Mrs. Betty Jo Curtis of Amarillo, Texas also visited them in St. Louis the latter part of July.

The groom formerly attended Jacksonville High School and is a radar operator in the Air Force stationed at Aiken, S.C.

YOUTH CRIME TAKES HOLIDAY AS ROOKIES PATROL NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is enjoying a holiday from youth crime as more than 500 student policemen do night patrol in 25 so-called "hazardous" precincts and the regular 23,000-man force remains on a special alert against teen-age violence.

Only relatively minor teen-age arrests have been made since the rookies from the police academy were sent out on the streets Tuesday night to help combat the recent wave of teen-age crime.

Acting Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy warned Wednesday, however, that "it is too early and too soon to evaluate the effectiveness of the assignment of the rookie policemen to patrol duty."

Driver Uninjured When Car Hits Horse In Road

JERSEYVILLE—Mrs. Evelyn Hunter escaped injury during an automobile accident about 5 p.m. Tuesday when the car she was driving enroute to her home on Jerseyville Route No. 2 collided with a horse on Cemetery avenue in the eastern part of the city.

The car was badly damaged by the impact, and the horse was injured to such an extent that it had to be disposed of by a veterinarian who was called. The horse according to city police report of the accident was the property of Barney Frech.

Night police officers Chester Warix and Richard Burrows who had just gone on duty went to the scene of the accident and handled the situation.

Mrs. Hunter was taken to the Jerseyville Community hospital where she was given a checkup for probable injuries and later discharged.

The first reunion of the 1930 graduating class at Jacksonville High School will be held Wednesday evening, Aug. 21 at MacMurray Cabin. Not too much fuss is being made in preliminary plans and notification of the date is being made through the newspapers only and word of mouth.

Miss Irene Groves was class advisor in 1930 for graduates then numbered over 150.

The committees offering to take charge of this year's gathering are: Reception, Willard Cody, Mildred D. Davidson, Milton Birdsell and Frances Craig Zupisch.

Cabin committee, Claraendon (Yorker) Smith, Willard Cody, Mildred Deaton Davidson and Faye Mahoney Walker.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—It is fitting that this year's United States Amateur is being held at historic The Country Club at Brookline, Mass.

It was there that 19-year-old Francis Ouimet walked across Clyde Street from his home to beat the British masters, Harry Vardon and Big Ted Ray, in a play-off for the U. S. Open of 1913 and put golf on page one.

There were numerous extraordinary young players in earlier days, Bobby Jones and Gene Sarazen among them, but the pattern changed in the mid-1930's. It got so that the amateur didn't get real good until he was in the mid-30s and the professional, Ben Hogan for a striking example, until he was 40. The ages of six members of this year's U. S. Walker Cup team range from 34 to 44.

The smashing victory of 18-year-old Don Essig in the U. S. Public Links Championship points up the fact that the good old days of precocious shotmakers may have returned.

It was something far out of the ordinary to see the six-foot, 140-pound Essig conduct himself like an old pro in 36 holes of qualifying and four 18 and two 36-rounds of match play over the tight, exacting and sporting Hershey Park, Pa., Golf Club layout.

Wearing old and faded plaid shorts and with a towel slung over his shoulder, the good looking Indianapolis kid eliminated, among others, two who had played professionally—Junie Buxbaum, the defending champion, and Gene Towry, the latter, 6 and 5, in the 36-hole final.

Essig made iron shots that Tommy Armour would highly recommend, and putted with deadly accuracy. He grew up on the Willow Brook daily fee course which the city of Indianapolis has surrounded. He won the Indiana Junior in mid-June, the Western Junior in July.

His triumph in the Publix qualifies Essig for the U. S. Amateur and both he and Larry Beck, the 17-year-old U. S. Junior champion out of Kinston, N.C., will be at The Country Club, Sept. 9-14.

Beck, son of a teaching professional, is a 5-foot 11-inch, slender handsome blond who swings as though he were illustrating the finest instructional book ever printed. He bagged his two final 18-hole Junior matches at the Manor Country Club, outside Washington, 6 and 5.

"Golf has never had so many outstanding juniors," says John P. English, assistant executive director of the U. S. Golf Association. "The list is too long to call off, but Jack Nicklaus, 17, of Columbus, O., and Jack Rule, 18, of Waterloo, Ia., also stick out.

"Nicklaus, who has the calm temperament of the great golfer, played in the U. S. Open this year. At 16, he won last year's Ohio Open from a splendid field, firing 64 in one round. Rule, who has the confidence of a veteran, won last year's Junior Chamber of Commerce title and was runner-up in the U. S. Junior.

"The Junior attracts around 1,000 entrants and 128 qualify. I would say that 100 of the latter are first class.

"Because the Amateur conflicts with the start of the school term, not many will attempt to qualify for the trip to Brookline, but you may rest assured that this game of golf is going to get faster and faster and scores lower and lower with beautifully executed shots and putters right out of the oven."

Kids like Don Essig, Larry Beck, Jack Nicklaus and Jack Rule make a totally unnatural game appear to come quite naturally.

Torgeson Cracks Two Homers, Staley Pitches Chisox To 7-4 Victory

CHICAGO (P)—Earl Torgeson cracked out two homers Thursday and drove in five runs and relief specialist Gerry Staley pitched superbly for a 7-4 Chicago victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The Chicago victory reduced the front-running New York Yankees' league lead to five games over the second-place White Sox. The Yankees, lost to Washington 6-1.

Staley, who will be 37 later this month, shut off a Kansas City rally in the fourth inning for his third victory of the year. Staley relieving starter Billy Pierce, got Vic Power on a pop fly with the bases loaded.

The veteran reliever allowed no runs and only 5 hits in 5 1-3 innings.

Torgeson, 33-year-old first baseman, smashed his fifth homer, a three-run drive in the third inning to give the Sox a 4-3 lead. It was the big blow of a five-run rally.

Torgeson's round tripper came in the seventh inning for the final Chicago run.

Gus Zernial had given Kansas City a brief 3-1 lead in the top of the third with a three-run homer. The wallop off Pierce followed Joe DeMaestri's single, a fielder's choice and a walk to Billy Hunter.

The Sox' first run came in the first inning when Luis Aparicio singled, stole second and third bases and beat Hunter's hasty throw to the plate on Torgeson's slow bouncer. Aparicio is leading the league with 16 base thefts. Chicago 105 000 10x-7 9 1 Coleman, Morgan (3), Burdette (4), McDermott (7) and Smith, Pierce, Staley (4) and Lollar. W. Staley, L. Coleman.

BOSSO DECLINE REPORTS
BOSTON (P)—The Boston Red Sox Thursday declined comment on published reports that the club showed an operating deficit of $616,460 for the year ending Nov. 30, 1956.

The report, published Thursday in the Wall Street Journal, said this figure was at odds with one given by the Red Sox to a congressional investigating committee in Washington which showed a profit of $122,032 for the same period.

Stoneham Says Frisco Offers Firm, Fair Deal

NEW YORK (P)—President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants Thursday formally announced receipt of what he termed "a very firm and fair offer" in San Francisco's bid to lure the National League baseball club to the West Coast.

The offer reportedly guarantees that San Francisco will build a 45,000-capacity stadium.

Neither Stoneham nor Vice President Chub Feeney, who spent most of the day in conference, revealed terms of the offer, however.

Stoneham, who appeared pleased with the offer from San Francisco's Mayor Christopher, said he would present the proposition, along with his recommendation, to the club's board of directors "within the next 10 days."

On July 18, Stoneham told a press conference he would "recommend to the board that we move to San Francisco" by next year if "we get a satisfactory proposition."

Narleski, Naragon Give Tribe 3-1 Win Over Tigers

DETROIT (P)—Righthander Ray Narleski of the Cleveland Indians won his fourth straight game as a starting pitcher Thursday, beating the Detroit Tigers 3-1 as his battery mate Hal Naragon batted across the deciding run with an eighth-inning single.

Narleski, former ace of the Cleveland bullpen, restricted the sputtering Tigers to six safeties as he won his ninth game against a single loss.

The Indians jumped off to a one-run lead in the first inning. But Reno Bertola pulled the Tigers into a 1-1 tie with a home run in the fifth.

The tie-breaking run came in the eighth when rookie Roger Maris singled for his third hit. He was sacrificed to second and brought around by Naragon's single.

Vic Wertz' homer in the ninth gave the Indians an insurance run.

Wildcat Coach Suggests Way To Ease Problems

LEXINGTON, Ky. (P)—Northwestern University football coach Ara Parseghian Thursday suggested a way to ease recruiting and subsidization problems in the Big Ten.

Parseghian, appearing at Kentucky's annual coaching clinic, said the problem could be lessened by following an athletic assistance code pioneered by the Southeastern Conference.

The SEC grant-in-aid for athletes, started just before World War II and since adopted by other Southern institutions, is a realistic approach to the matter, he said.

Parseghian said the Big Ten's new plan for aid to athletes is too complicated and required too much interpretation to be workable.

He said the SEC grant-in-aid lets a school and coach know exactly where they stand in relation to what can be done to help athletes.

It provides tuition, books, room and board and $15 a month for laundry and dry cleaning.

Federal Reserve Banks Raise Discount Rates

WASHINGTON (P)—Discount rates at four federal reserve banks were raised from 3 to 3½ per cent Thursday in a new move to check inflation.

The Federal Reserve Board ordered the increases, effective Friday, for member banks at Philadelphia, Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City. It acted on the recommendations of the boards of directors of the banks in those areas.

There was no immediate indication whether the eight other federal reserve banks would follow suit, but such a step is usual. These banks are located in New York, Boston, San Francisco, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, St. Louis and Dallas.

The discount rate is the charge made when member banks borrow money from the federal reserve. The theory is that a higher rate will discourage such borrowing. In turn this tends to hold down the amount of money member banks have for normal commercial lending.

A reserve board spokesman said the higher discount rates represented a continuation of the board's efforts to restrain the expansion of credit, because "the main fight is still against inflation."

The new rate is the highest since 1934.

Last previous increase in the discount rate was made last Aug. 23. The rate then was raised from 2½ to 3 per cent in 10 of the 12 reserve districts. At that time the 3 per cent rate had been in effect in two districts since the preceding April.

Senators Trim Yankees Second Straight Day, 6-1

NEW YORK (P)—Russ Kemmerer just missed a shutout over the New York Yankees Thursday when Enos Slaughter doubled with two on and two out for the only Yankee run in a 6-1 Washington victory.

Kemmerer, a 25-year-old right-hander, allowed seven hits as the Senators beat the league leaders for the second straight day.

It was Kemmerer's sixth victory and the second defeat for starter Art Ditmar who has won eight.

Eddie Yost's leadoff homer in the first, started Ditmar on the wrong foot, and the Senators picked up another in the second.

Ditmar yielded three runs in the fourth before he gave way to Al Ciochete. Art Shuts opened the inning by bouncing a ground-rule double into the left field seats and Faye Throneberry walked. When Rocky Bridges' single to center drove in Shult and when Mickey Mantle let the ball go through for an error, Throneberry wound up on third and Bridges on second. Kemmerer's double to left scored both Throneberry and Bridges to finish off Ditmar.

Patterson Says August Bout For Money, Not Glory

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y. (P)—Life is just one training camp after another for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. He leaves Friday for his Aug. 22 defense against Pete Rademacher at Seattle.

The champ boxed five rounds Thursday. He drove to New York Friday to catch an afternoon train west.

Patterson returned to his Greenwood Lake camp last Thursday only three days after he had stopped Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in his first title defense.

Asked what he thought of fighting Rademacher, the 1956 Olympic champion who never had a pro fight, Patterson summed it up like this:

"I look at it like this. Rademacher won't be fighting for money but for glory. Naturally he will have his whole heart in it. I can't say I'm fighting for glory. Look at the way people have criticized me and this fight. So, I'm fighting for money and for extra experience."

Patterson is getting a $250,000 guarantee for the fight with the money reportedly already posted in a Columbus, Ga., bank.

"The money will be in my pocket on the way home," he said with a grin.

CHISOX OPTION LANDIS
CHICAGO (P)—The Chicago White Sox Thursday optioned outfielder Jim Landis to Indianapolis of the American Assn., subject to 24-hour recall.

Manager Al Lopez said Landis, a rookie, was being optioned to gain more experience.

The 23-year-old Landis, a starting outfielder most of the first half of this season, had a .219 batting average. The departure left the Chicago roster at 24 players.

LONG MILE
DETROIT (P)—Michigan's richest horse race is known as the $50,000-added Michigan Mile. But it will be contested at a mile and one-sixteenth Sept. 21 at the Detroit Race Course. Track officials decided to lengthen the race to attract more of the nation's top handicap horses.

HOLE-IN-ONE FOR BOBBY

Thirteen-year-old Bobby Lair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lair, scored the first hole-in-one of the season at the Nichols Park Course Thursday morning and the third such shot of the 1957 golfing season.

Bobby, who was golfing with Jerry Hildebrand, scored his ace on number four, driving off the women's tee. Lair used a three-iron on the 179 yard hole to become the youngest hole-in-one artist in the Jacksonville area.

Olive Fisher, Lee Fisher, Tom Brant and Wilma Brant, all of Pittsfield, were witnesses to Lair's feat. Bobby ended his round with a final tally of 46.

Sam Snead Fires A 65 For Lead In 'World', Jerry Barber's 66 2nd

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (P)—Sam Snead, who is said to have the keys to Ft. Knox, picked up the PGA winning list with a mere $2,111 in earnings missed the green on his approach, chipped 10 feet away and failed on the putt.

The 45-year-old veteran, who probably is golf's best heeled pro, breezed over Tam's 6,915-yard playground in 32-33 for a one-stroke edge in the chase for the game's biggest award—$50,000 in cash and a like amount in an exhibition contract.

"Well, I got enough to fill half of a tin can," smiled Snead, who hit every green and three-putted only one in keeping the sharpness that carried him to third place in Tam's recent All American tourney.

Snead returned to locker room banter that he keeps all his money in tin cans under the floor of his home in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where he came up through the caddy ranks to become one of golf's greatest players.

Jerry Barber, 41-year-old bantam from Los Angeles, rolled into second place with 32-34—66 and missed a share of the lead with a huge 5 on the last hole. Jerry, banking 69th on the PGA winning list with a mere $2,111 in earnings missed the green on his approach, chipped 10 feet away and failed on the putt.

In third place with a 67 was a 33-year-old Canadian, Al Balding, who birdied the last three holes. Grouped at 68 were Shelley Mayfield, Mike Souchak and Dow Finsterwald, who has finished in the money in 58 consecutive tournaments.

The other fields of the "World" shaped up this way:

Men amateurs—Bob Ross Jr., 20-year-old state amateur champion from Springfield, Ohio, with 71 for a one-stroke margin over defending champion Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, N. Y., and All Americanist Cliff Don Cherry.

Women's amateur—Clifford Ann Creed, Opelousas, La., with 81 for a two-stroke lead over Lois Drake, Chicago.

Women's pros—Marilynn Smith, Wichita, Kan., 5-under-par 71 for a two-stroke edge over Mary Lena Faulk.

Drabowsky, who gave up seven hits, helped his own cause with a tie-breaking single in the seventh.

Loser was Vinegar Bend Mizell, the Cardinals' only lefthander. He now is 4-8 for the season.

Plans For Disarm Treaty Almost Ready: Stassen

LONDON (P)—Harold E. Stassen told the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee Thursday he expects to complete a broad U. S. proposal for a disarmament treaty within a few days.

U. S. sources said the four Western members of the five-nation subcommittee are in substantial agreement on the items they will present to Russia.

These items, covering both nuclear and conventional weapons, will comprise a package disarmament plan endorsed by the United States, Britain, Canada and France.

The first part of the plan, a comprehensive open skies proposal for aerial inspection of Russia and the United States, was submitted last week by Secretary of State Dulles.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin, who obviously had not yet received instructions from Moscow on the latest open skies proposals, made no comment on the Dulles plan.

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (P)—Somewhere they've missed Walt Alston, but the firings of major league managers this season seem to be proceeding in more or less alphabetical order, with Boudreau, Bragan and Dressen already removed "for the good of all concerned."

They happened to get to Dressen before they got to the other "B's," but that was undoubtedly due to an error. Dressen's error, as his Senators were mired in last-place before the others.

Anyway, we like Lou Boudreau's quote to the effect that "it was the most amicable of all my firings" when he was ousted as pilot of the Kansas City club. The bouncer must have said "please."

We believe the gentlemanly and extremely personable Boudreau was a victim of circumstances. If the Yankees had just sent him Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra and Gil McDougald instead of Billy Hunter and Bob Marlyn and Irv Noren and a couple of other exchange students Lou still would have had his job.

That is, a manager is no better than his material. Casey Stengel himself knows what it is to be fired, and he probably was as good a manager when he piloted the Dodgers and the Braves as he is today.

And Boudreau undoubtedly is as good a manager today as he was when he piloted the Indians to the American League pennant in 1948.

Dressen and Bragan were victims of the same circumstances which brought about Boudreau's dismissal. They just didn't have the material to climb much higher than they were. And incidentally, Dressen quit the Dodgers after winning a pennant because he refused to accept a one-year contract. Would you say he isn't as good a manager 'as he was in 1953'?

Bragan made the mistake of calling undue attention to himself at a most inopportune time. When you're not doing so well it's always best to keep quiet in the hope nobody will notice you.

Sometimes it seems the clubs might do better if they fired the front office and kept the manager. The late Connie Mack had that situation licked. He was both.

Francona's Triple Paces Orioles To Win Over Boston

BALTIMORE (P)—A fence-denting triple in the third inning by Baltimore's Tito Francona was the big blow that gave the Orioles a 3-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox Thursday.

Billy O'Dell became the fourth left-hander in the American League to beat the Red Sox, although he had to retire after seven innings with a sore arm.

The Orioles won the game, as it turned out, in the third inning, when Willie Miranda walked, was sacrificed to second and scored on Billy Gardner's single to right. Then, after Gardner stole second, Francona tripled in Gardner for a 2-0 lead.

Phillies Halt Pirates Uprising For 6-3 Decision

PITTSBURGH (P)—Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies pitched masterful ball for eight innings Thursday before the Pittsburgh Pirates got to him for three runs in the bottom of the ninth to spoil his shutout as the Phils chalked up a 6-3 victory.

Simmons had given up only six hits and hadn't walked a man until the ninth. Bob Miller came on in relief with one out and halted the uprising.

The Phillies scored one run in the second inning, two more in the fifth, then clinched it on Grady Hamner's two-run homer in a three-run sixth.

The Moscow student leaped 7 feet, 1 inch in a minor track and field meet between the Soviet Union and East German athletes.

The listed world mark is 7 feet, 1 inch set by Charlie Dumas of Los Angeles in the U. S. Olympic trials in 1956.

DARK HAS ONE SEASON IN MINORS
ST. LOUIS (P)—Alvin Dark, who has been a big help as shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals, had only one season in the minors. That was in 1947 when he played for Milwaukee, then in the American Assn. He batted .303. With nine big league seasons behind him he entered 1957 with a 293 lifetime mark.

Giants Solid Favorites Over Collegians In All-Star Tilt Tonight

By TED SMITS

CHICAGO (P)—The New York Giants of the National Football League take the field as 10-point favorites Friday night against the College All-Stars.

The collegians, however, have as potentially good a squad as any that has been assembled in the series that extends over 23 games.

Their chance of an upset depends on top performances by such individual aces as John Brodie of Stanford, Clarence Peaks of Michigan State, Paul Hornung of Notre Dame, Jim Brown of Syracuse or Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma.

A crowd of around 5,900 is expected at Soldier Field. Weather prospects are good. The game will be televised over the ABC network.

work starting at 7:30 p.m. EST. Against the still unjelled talents of the collegians the Giants will field a well-knit, experienced team with a powerful backfield composed of Charlie Conerly, Frank Gifford, Alex Webster, and Mal Trippett.

Coach Curly Lambeau of the All-Stars has been cagey about his offensive plans but said "if I had to pick 11 men, Peaks would be one of them." Peaks was sidelined most of last season by injuries but has shown great running form in practice.

Both teams took light workouts Thursday under a warm sun. This will be the first game the Giants have played since they walloped the Chicago Bears 47-7 last December and won the NFL championship.

League Leading Braves Trip Redlegs, 5-3, On Schoendienst's Single

MILWAUKEE (P)—Red Schoendienst's two-run bases loaded single in the eighth inning broke a 3-3 tie and gave the league-leading Milwaukee Braves a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs at County Stadium Thursday.

Righthander Lew Burdette, achieving his 10th victory of the season against 7 defeats, pitched Milwaukee to a clean sweep of the 3-game set.

Successful home runs by George Crowe and Frank Robinson had erased a 3-1 Milwaukee lead in the top half of the eighth, but the Braves came right back to fill the bases without a hit, setting the stage for Schoendienst's game-winning blow.

Raul Sanchez, who replaced starter Joe Nuxhall in the seventh, was charged with the defeat.

The Redlegs put together three singles and a sacrifice in the third for the first run of the game. Nuxhall started it with a single. Johnny Temple and Gus Bell also singled and with the bases loaded Jerry Lynch sacrificed Nuxhall home.

Del Crandall, Braves' catcher drafted for outfield duty because of Wednesday night's injury to Andy Pafko, hit a solo homer in the fourth that touched off a three-run burst.

FLOUR BUYING STIMULATES PRICES OF WHEAT, RYE, BEANS

By WILLARD ROBERTSON
CHICAGO (U) — Wheat, rye and soybean futures made fair gains on the Board of Trade Thursday on buying stimulated by flour purchases and a government cotton forecast that was somewhat lighter than expected.

Wheat and beans advanced almost two cents and rye more than two cents. Strength in these prices caused a slight advance in corn prices after early weakness. Oats failed to move much in light trading.

New style wheat closed 1/2 to 1 1/4 higher, corn 1/4 up to 1/4 down, oats 1/4 higher to 1/4 lower, rye 3/4 to 1/2 cents higher, soybeans 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher, and lard 7 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower.

The government forecast a cotton crop of 11,897,000 bales, compared with production of 13,310,000 bales last year. This was slightly below trade thinking on the subject, and was considered somewhat bullish. Smaller cotton production means higher demand for soybean oil and meal.

Wheat and rye flour were purchased overnight. Traders said they believed some of the flour buying was to beat the deadline for a 4 per cent freight rate boost, due to become effective shortly. Rye flour purchases were re-counted. ## New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (U) — Corporate bonds were higher on average in dull trading Friday. U.S. government bonds eased in light transactions over-the-counter.

After the close of the market, the Federal Reserve Board announced a 1/2 percentage point increase in the discount rate to 3 1/2 per cent for four reserve banks. These are in Philadelphia, Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City. There was no change for the other eight central banks.

The discount rate — what the "fed" charges member banks for loans borrowed from the central banks — is a basic money market barometer. The 3 1/2 per cent rate is the highest permitted by the Federal Reserve Board since its inception in 1934.

Rails, industrials, utilities and investment quality issues closed firm among the corporates. Trading volume slipped to $2,610,000 per value on the Big Board from $4,190,000 Wednesday.

to say that there was a mistake on the street address when he registered.

"Anyway, he pulled out a gun and told me and Partain and Steininger to stand with our backs to the wall. Then he told us to walk naturally across the lobby to the elevator."

Callis said he stepped into the elevator first and then the detective jumped back and tried to draw his gun. Sparks shot him four times, with other bullets rattling around the lobby and one striking the girl, an Indiana University student.

Sparks forced Berle Morrison, 62-year-old elevator operator, to take him to the 12th floor. Meanwhile, the traffic officer had heard the shots and followed Sparks to the 12th floor. Cooper was shot in the left arm.

City and state police began lobbying tear gas shells through the windows and transoms. Gas-masked patrolmen shot the door to splinters with buckshot.

Sparks was found lying on the telephone receiver, with his head on the base, as though he had been trying to make a call. It looked as if one shotgun blast had hit him in the head.

From the adjoining room, police found the full-scale attack, before Callis' Hall - Gatewood and two women.

One woman, who first said she married the dead man two weeks ago, later told police she is Miss Maude Loretta Booth, 22, Des Moines, Iowa, and met the two men there three weeks ago. She and the men flew from Des Moines to Indianapolis last Sunday.

The other woman, a more recent addition to the party, gave her name as Dorothy Norris, 28, St. Louis.

Des Moines police reported the two men had stayed three months in a hotel there recently.

Report Two Polish Subs Nearing Scotland's Coast

LONDON (Friday) (U) — The British Royal Navy reported early Friday two Polish submarines are approaching the coast of Scotland near Aberdeen.

There was speculation that the crews intend to seek political asylum in Britain.

"We have not had any messages from them," said a spokesman for naval headquarters at Rosyth, Scotland.

"If they should come into a British port they will be granted facilities normally accorded to visiting warships."

The position of the subs at that time was about 15 miles southeast of Aberdeen.

The possibility that the Polish crews are seeking asylum from their own Communist government was raised by a Western diplomat in London.

The diplomat, who declined to permit use of his name, was the first to tell newsmen the subs had been spotted by the British navy.

The Soviet Union recently delivered three submarines to the Egyptian navy by way of the Baltic, North Sea, English Channel, eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

"The British did not disclose how the identity of the two Polish subs was established but it was presumed they had been seen by naval aircraft whose pilots were able to pick out identifying features."

State's 99th Agricultural Fair Opens Today At 8:30 A.M.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — Illinois rolls out its red carpet Friday to welcome agriculture to the state's 99th fair.

Farmers and stockbreeders annually respond to the lure of the fair's cash awards and the thrill of capturing blue ribbons. This year they have a record-breaking $835,677 pot to draw them. However, harness, automobile and motorcycle racing will take more than a half million dollars out of the sum first.

Gov. Stratton will throw open the gates and head a grand parade that signals the start of the 10-day exposition on the 366-acre grounds.

His daughter, Diana, will be official hostess for the Children's Day program. A junior king and queen will be crowned. Winners will be picked in a baby pageant, long pistol contest and in yo-yo and news paper throwing skills.

The first of seven days of harness racing is a highlight Friday. Junior livestock exhibitors will be given plucking prizes in the sheep pavilion. Demonstrations are on tap by 4-H Club members.

Attendance of one million is predicted by fair officials. Crowds have fallen off in recent years, with the estimated 1936 turnout of 780,000 lowest in a decade.

For the second straight year, there will be no special days held by the Republican and Democratic parties.

By law, it will be the last year anyone can get in free, excepting veterans and their families on the fair's Veterans Day and employees and their children.

Now, veterans are admitted free at all times. Everyone is admitted at night without charge.

Scheduled for Saturday are judging of swine, sheep, and horses. Competition tightens in baton twirling, square dancing, 4-H Club public speaking, Junior department livestock breeders show off hundreds of entries.

Smooth Stop
He circled the field once, apparently wrestling with a balky landing gear. Down the wheels came, and the C97, listing because of the engine drag, rolled to a smooth stop.

Some 500 persons watched in admiration. Military officials stood by with medical equipment. It was not needed.

The Air Force arranged immediately to take the passengers aboard another C97 for the flight from Hilo to Hickam.

Big Hay Barn Burns At Thos. Drury Farm

A large hay barn at the farm of Thomas Drury, eight miles east of this city in the Orleans community, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday evening despite efforts of fire engine crews from Jacksonville and Alexander.

Breaking out about 7 o'clock, the blaze attained headway before arrival of the fire engines, which drew water from a pond. Firemen used streams of water to hold the flames well within the area of the burning structure, which was one of the largest barns of its kind in Morgan county.

Several thousand bales of clover hay, and a considerable amount of grain was lost in the fire. Mr. Drury said his loss is partly covered by insurance.

He said Thursday morning that an estimate of the loss has not yet been made by adjusters. However, it is believed the loss will be in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Five Jacksonville firemen laid 12 sections of hose in their battle to drench the flames. Members of the department making the run were Chief Howard Reynolds, Capt. Raymond Hayes, Francis Casey, Frank Matijevich and Ike Wright.

Origin of the blaze is undetermined. All of the hay in the big structure was dry, the wiring was of modern type, and no one had been in the barn for some time, Mr. Drury said.

The barn was about 120 by 100 feet, with a lean-to shed attached. The lean-to did not burn, due to the large volume of water thrown upon it, but was almost buried by smoldering hay.

BROOKLYN MYF VISITS MUSEUM AT DIXON MOUNDS

A group from the MYF of the Brooklyn Methodist church and their pastor and sponsor took a picnic lunch to Dixon Mounds State Park, north of Havana, on Monday of this week. The group left Monday morning, and arrived in time to have dinner at the picnic area of the park. Following the dinner they visited the burial site and went through the museum before returning home.

The group plans to have a reception of members on September 1, with a hamburger fry. In October a trip to Henderson Settlement, a Methodist Mission school in the hills of southeast Kentucky, is being planned.

Bargains Can Be Found In Stores During Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Food costs are still inching up, but there are bargains to be had if you look for them.
Best buys in meat this weekend will include smoked picnic hams, chuck roast, hamburger, spare ribs, bacon and most cuts of veal.

Likewise attractively priced are roasting turkeys and frying chickens.

Beef prices continued to move up. Rib roast of beef is higher this week in New York, Pittsburgh, Washington and Philadelphia; sirloin steak is up a few cents a pound in leading supermarkets in New York and Chicago.

While veal is a bit higher in some areas, it's still one of the better buys.

Egg prices have turned around and are again heading lower. Some of the big food chains have slashed prices of large white eggs as much as five cents a dozen and medium-sized whites as much as six cents.

Budget-minded shoppers will also find a wide variety of frozen fish to choose from. Some of the more prominently mentioned "specials" are frozen fish sticks and frozen salmon steaks.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are available in great abundance this week. Outstanding buys include cabbage, yellow or green squash, bunched beets, yellow onions, tomatoes, radishes and scallions.

Listed as fairly good buys are peppers, egg plant, cucumbers, yellow sweet corn, California long white and Idaho early gem potatoes, Chinese cabbage and California pascal celery.

Cantaloupes are a little higher in price this week but still a good buy. Also attractively priced are South Carolina and Maryland peaches, Florida citrus fruits, California oranges, Montana cherries and Washington prunes. Blueberries are nearing the end of their season; grapes, plums, nectarines and pears are pretty much in the luxury class.

Dairy products are in great abundance right now—production of butter and cheese is way up but people are eating less.

It's going to be a good year for apples, with a larger than usual crop.

His warning came as the result of rumors that some of the movie names were planning to stay away from the hearings, which are scheduled to start as soon as a jury can be selected.
